

NSLHA Awards Committee

The NSLHA Awards Committee will review nominations and select recipients for the following awards:

Honors of the Association is given to an individual who has been active in NSLHA and/or volunteered for the association. The individual may be an audiologist or speech-language pathologist in the clinical or school setting.

The Recognition of Service Award is given to an individual in recognition of exemplary commitment and contribution to the field, with an emphasis on specific contributions within the last 6 years. Areas of achievement may be in audiology or speech-language pathology and may be in either the school or clinical setting.

The Meritorious Service Award is given to a person or organization that supports people with communication disorders. These individuals are from outside the fields of audiology and speech-language pathology.

Term

The NSLHA Board of Directors has authority for the appointment and dissolution of all committees, task groups and related groups. The NSLHA Awards Committee Chair is the NSLHA President-Elect. The committee will exist as long as there is interest in continuing to provide these, or other awards, to recognize and honor individuals providing service, leadership and contributions to the speech-language-hearing profession.

Specific Duties and Responsibilities

1. Review the awards being offered, and the criteria, and recommend any enhancements to the NSLHA Board of Directors for consideration.
2. Help promote submission of nominations.
3. Review the nominations and select the recipients.
4. The chair will present the awards at the NSLHA Annual Business Meeting.
